FUND MANAGER'S COMMENT

Global markets broadly rebounded in May and June, supported by a 90-day pause on key U.S. tariffs. By late June, only one formal trade deal—between the U.S. and U.K.—had been finalized. While U.S.-China tensions have eased slightly, we believe the overall trade environment remains uncertain, with geopolitical risks in the Middle East flaring up on and off, keeping investors cautious. Separately, on the monetary policy front, major central banks have shifted toward easing in response to softer growth and moderating inflation, though the U.S. Federal Reserve remains an exception, holding rates steady due to concerns over tariff-driven inflation. Although the Fed has maintained its projection for potential rate cuts this year, we believe it would not be surprising if rates remain elevated for longer in order to contain renewed inflationary pressures, given the continued strength of the economy and labor market. Against this backdrop, we emphasize the importance of diversification and a focus on quality amid volatility.

The Malaysian market has been among the laggards in 1H2025, as lingering trade issues and heightened geopolitical risks weighed on investor sentiment and led to sustained foreign selling. We expect the Malaysian market to adopt a wait-and-see stance in 2H2025 as it digests the impact of a tariff-driven global slowdown, alongside domestic cost pressures from higher SST, RON95 fuel prices, and electricity tariffs. Despite these headwinds, strong domestic liquidity, attractive below-mean valuations, and supportive government initiatives—such as NETR, JS-SEZ, and NIMP 2030—could help cushion downside risks and support selective buying opportunities in the near term.
